

Small point release and soft slab avalanches are sliding on the surface hoar and facets 3-5 inches under the surface. This photo was on a ENE aspect at 9800 feet in Lightening Creek in the Taylor fork area. Photo: Mason Young

Advisory Region
Southern Madison
Southern Madison, 2009-02-08