

These slab avalanches on south facing slopes near Cooke City fractured about a foot down. While not large these avalanches show the weakness of a layer of facets near an ice crust. Photos: B. Fredlund

Advisory Region
Cooke City
Cooke City, 2009-02-13