

This 40 degree northwest facing slope consisted of large, weak facets. This 3 foot deep snowpack will become quickly unstable if/when we get more snow. This is one of the weakest snowpacks in southwest Montana.

No Region, 2009-02-24