

The debris was quite extensive given the small area the avalanche released from. The densely packed slab was thick over most of the slope adding a lot of volume to the avalanche. It slid 800-1,000 feet down the slope.
Photo: GNFAC

Advisory Region
Bridger Range
Bridger Range, 2011-01-10