

We triggered this avalanche from a cornice drop. It propagated about 600 feet wide. It broke on the thick layer of facets underneath the wind-loaded snow. We also triggered three more along the ridge: one from a cornice drop, one from a collapse and another remotely. Photo: GNFAC

Advisory Region
Lionhead Range
Lionhead Range, 2012-01-19