

These avalanches occurred above McAtee Basin on NNE facing slopes at about 9500 ft. They appear very similar to another slide nearby that broke 3 ft deep. There are three crown lines visible and they probably all happened at the same time sometime on Wednesday (3/7). Photo: GNFAC

Longitude

-111.43W

Latitude

45.17N

No Region, 2012-03-08