

We dug a pit on Saddle Peak and found a couple of prominent layers of faceted snow. We posted a video on YouTube of the pit. Although we did not get out snow columns to propagate shears, the snow structure is very weak and will not support a big load of snow. Photo: GNFAC

Advisory Region
Bridger Range
Bridger Range, 2015-12-13