

We saw this recent natural avalanche and three others of similar size on 1/30. They probably slid earlier in the week (1/25-1/26). These show the types of areas where it may be more likely to trigger an avalanche -- wind loaded, and faceted near rocks and trees. Photo: GNFAC

Advisory Region
Northern Madison
Northern Madison, 2016-01-30