

This avalanche was in Hidden Gully at the top of the Apron at Bridger Bowl. New snow avalanches along with wind-loading and cornice falls are part of the dangers at Bridger Bowl since the ski area is closed and ski patrol is not doing control work. Although it may feel safe because the terrain is so familiar, backcountry avalanche conditions exist. Photo: B. Balkin

Advisory Region
Bridger Range
Bridger Range, 2017-04-11